GUY'S FARM and YARD

May 3, 2026

Guy's Farm and Yard Wood Pellet Customers:

It looks like spring may have finally sprung. We have finalized our Wood Pellet pre-buy prices for the 2026-2027 Heating Season. Supplies appear stable at the current time.

Global uncertainty and conflict have energy markets incredibly volatile. Freight and manufacturing input costs are certainly susceptible to fluctuation in pricing. We are confident that we can honor our pre-buy prices throughout the purchasing window. Delivery prices may be subject to change depending on fuel prices as we move through spring and into summer.

We strongly encourage customers to pre-buy and pick up or take delivery of their pellets early. In order for us to honor pellets at the pre-buy price we must be able to accept delivery from our vendors. By participating in the pre-buy this year, you must be willing/able to take delivery of your pellets any time after July 1, 2025. This does not guarantee we will deliver them at any given time, but should you decline your pellets any time after July 1, you may be subject to pricing increases or increased delivery fees.

As always, we may have to substitute one brand of pellet for another depending on inventory levels at any given location at any time. Pre-buy customers will receive priority in supply as well as delivery.

As always, if you have a strong preference for a particular brand of pellets, we encourage you to buy and pick up/take delivery of them early, as things can change quickly.

The 2026 Wood Pellet order form is enclosed. Prices are valid through May 31, 2026. Please contact your preferred location for order and delivery information.

Sincerely,

Will Guy
